Where I ferret out interesting,
neat & great sites for Elsie Acers.
Howard Shaughnessy, site seeker

Now that the major league baseball season is a memory, an article about the legendary Hall of Famer, Satchel Paige, (7/7/06 – 6/8/82) seems appropriate. Known as well for his famous quote, “Never look back, they may be gaining on you.” as well as his tips for staying young. He pitched professionally from 1926 to 1965 (maybe the Cubs should dig him up) and was a winner. Neat site http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Satchel_Paige.

I suppose Acers read Jim Coates, the Tribune’s computer guru. You should also read Circuits, a weekly David Pogue (he of Mac book fame) column in the NY Times. www.nytimes.com/circuits/ gets you there. In the October 31st issue his main story, Shutterbug’s Guide to Meting Out the Megapixels, asks, How Many is Enough?, What picture format is best for you and more. You can sign on for this free e-mail column. Actually, you ought to read the online NYTimes every day, it’s free @ NYTimes.com. You need to register.

OK, let’s get it right with www.GetRight.com which works with your web browser to help download files from the InterNet, will accelerate your DL as well as recover DLs if errors occur. Other features: scheduling, auto dialing & file searching. A FREE DL version available. This site got good vibes from CNet. Also a buy version, which they nag you, but the free one does the job.

Found the above at steve@worldstart.com, a daily computer tips and techniques site. This dude illustrates all the tips/technis even a newbie can use. Always has a new site as well that one should explore as well.

Halloween has gone, Christmas is upon us so what do you get when you cross a snowman with a vampire? Frostbite.
Bad puns has its own website where it can be accessed at Yahoo.com.

Where can you find articles, “Napster Ordered to Stop as Soon as Judges Finish Downloading” At www.satirewire.com the online mag published between 1999-2002. Gone but archives still sing and sting.

Things you don’t want to here from Tech. Support

1. “Do you have a sledgehammer or a brick handy”?
2. “That’s right, not even McGyver could fix it.”
3. “Press 1 for Support, Press 2 if you are with 60 Minutes, Press 3 if you are with the FTC.”
4. “ In layman’s terms, we call that the Hindenburg Effect.”
5. “We can fix this, but You’re gonna need a butter knife, a roll of duct tape, and a car battery.”
6. “Please hold for Mr. Gates’ attorney”

Happy
Holliday's

I spent a day in a nursing home helping residents with an Arts & Crafts project. It turned out so well. I enjoyed it as much or even more than they did. The project we created used two CD's per resident. There are many other things that can be made from these "garbage" items.

I'm asking if you will save those CD's for free Internet service you receive in the mail for me. I would really appreciate it. Please ask your family, friends and co-workers also, I think everyone gets them!

Thanks,

Donna Kalinoski

Editors Note: If you would like to drop them off at the next meeting I will ensure Donna gets them.
